Pacific Palisades Threatened as Two Fires Near Link; 200 Homes Destroyed

U.S. Seeking U.N. Support To Head Off Peiping Vote

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States worked behind the scenes at the United Nations today, seeking support for a move to head off a General Assembly vote on Red China's bid for a U. N. seat.

N.Y. Milk Tieup Ends, Going to Arbitration

NEW YORK (AP)—A two-week drought in the city and Long Island ended on this Election Day with an agreement to submit to arbitration the last remaining issue in a Teamsters strike. The issue involves overtime pay.

Bells Guide Blind Girl, 16, Marcher With School Band

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The girl marches briskly with the band down the football field, guided by two bells and the ringing courage of her heart.

The blazing floodlights never bring squints to Leah Russell's blue eyes; the floodlights are black to her.

"I have only one terrible fear," said Leah, 16, blind since birth. "I'm scared that sometime I may not hear the sound of the bell-players and I'll go marching off by myself—all alone, in the dark."

Economists Debate About Lag in Retail Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most government and private economists reject the idea that public fear of war and nuclear disaster has discouraged consumer buying.

Debate and discussion continue, however, and economists are still puzzled over the failure of retail sales to join in the broad and general rise of economic activity this year.

The same period has seen international crisis piled on crisis, including the Cuba invasion fiasco, Communist gains in Southeast Asia, the threat of war over Berlin, the breakdown of nuclear test ban talks and the pall of fallout from the new series of Soviet nuclear explosions.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and some professional economists tie these phenomena together. It is understandable, Hodges told a recent news conference, that "because of international conditions and... a little fear" consumers might defer spending for home appliances and other "big ticket" items.

A similar thought was tossed out by economist George Cline Smith. As outgoing president of the National Association of Business Economists, the New York consulting economist told the association last month in Chicago:

"If the economy is going to take off for the expected highs, consumers are going to have to get their heads out of the fallout shelter and act as though they think the economy is going to last for a while."

Government economists—though reluctant to be quoted by name especially when dealing with psychology instead of economics—admit they have considered this thesis seriously. Most of them don't endorse it.

A White House official admitted privately that consumer behavior has been puzzling administration advisers for months, but without any particular indication that fright was a factor.

Somber Picture in Speech
There was some speculation within the government that scare must act soon on the controversial Chinese seating issue placed on its agenda for the first time since the Communists took over the mainland in 1949.

Seek New Postponement

Doubtful it had the votes to put across its usual proposal to shelve debate on China for another year, the United States voted this fall for a full airing of the seating question. Now U. S. diplomats are sounding out delegates, seeking support for another type of postponement proposal—creation of a special committee to study the China question and report back to the assembly next year.

The United States has made it plain it still opposes any move to oust the Nationalist Chinese and seat the Reds in their place. It has served notice it will fight the Soviet proposal that the assembly recognize the Peiping government as the lawful holder of the Chinese seat.

Western diplomats expressed confidence the United States has the voting support to dump the Chinese question into the lap of a committee even though the Communists and many Asian and African delegates will fight it as another attempt to shelve the issue.

Reds May Be Cool, Too

Western observers also feel that with the widening breach between Peiping and Moscow, evidenced at the recent Soviet Communist party congress, the Soviets actually have little if any desire to see Red China admitted to the U. N.

The Russians are said to fear that Red China might try to move in as chief spokesman for the Communist bloc.

Monday the assembly by a vote of 71-20 adopted a proposal by India and five nonaligned nations urging voluntary moratorium on nuclear weapon tests. It was rejected by all the nuclear powers—the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

Salt Water Spray Used to Detect Lung-Cancer Now

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Early lung-cancer can be detected by patients inhaling a salt water spray, a Columbia University doctor says.

After the spray reaches the lungs, the patient's saliva is analyzed by the relatively simple "Pap" smear method which has proved so effective in the tests for uterine cancer, said Dr. Hyman A. Bickerman.

Dr. Bickerman, associate clinical professor of medicine at Columbia, addressed the seventh annual meeting of the American Association of Inhalation Therapists here Monday. He said the new method is under experimentation at the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City.

Voting Is Slow Here In Morning Ballot on Issues And Candidates

Polls opened at 6 a. m. today and will remain open until 7 p. m.

During the early hours voting in the city was generally slow, in many of the polling places there was but short waiting after the first rush at the opening of the polls had passed.

Kingston voters are electing a mayor, alderman-at-large, city judge as well as ward officials.

Former Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk (R), of 85 Dunne Avenue, is opposing Mayor Edwin F. Radel (D), who is seeking re-election. Benjamin Schecter of 199 Downs Street is the Republican candidate for alderman-at-large, opposing Harold L. Kaye (D), who is seeking re-election to the number two position in the city.

Joseph D. Saccoman of 116 Marius Street, is the Republican candidate opposing City Judge Aaron E. Klein, who is seeking re-election on the Democratic ticket.

Supervisors and aldermen are also being elected in each ward of the city.

Both Supreme Court Justice Louis G. Bruhn of Kingston, who was appointed to the Supreme Court by Governor Rockefeller to fill out an unexpired term, and Sullivan County Judge Lawrence H. Cooke of Monticello, are unopposed, running on all tickets.

County Candidates

Four county offices are being filled by the voters.

County Judge Raymond J. Mino of 136 Wall Street is seeking re-election.

Local VA Office To Close Dec. 29, Serves 5 Counties

The local Veterans Administration office will close December 29, it was learned today.

F. William Sheehan, contact officer, at the office in central post office, said an order setting the December date was received late Monday from the Central VA office in Washington, D. C.

The order means that 161 VA offices throughout the nation will close December 29.

VA offices in Poughkeepsie and Middletown are to be closed, also.

Help for Servicemen Rocky Plans Tax Relief for 200,000

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A special session of the Legislature this week will consider Gov. Rockefeller's program to grant $1.4 million in income-tax relief to the 200,000 New Yorkers on active military duty.

The proposals is part of the Republican governor's program of help to individuals called to duty during the current military buildup.

The two-day session beginning Thursday also will reappoint the state's congressional districts and consider a plan for constructing fallout-shelters in schools.

Republican leaders have drawn a redistricting plan they feel will change the current 22-21 Democratic advantage in the delegation to a 26-15 Republican majority.

The Democratic minority leader of the Senate charged the plan was "the worst gerrymandering plot in the state's history."

Rockefeller and his aides still were working today on the fallout program that will be presented to the session.

He announced Monday the message on servicemen's benefits he will send to the Legislature.

Talk Viet Nam, Tests Report Nehru Advising Against Sending Troops

WASHINGTON (AP)—India Prime Minister Nehru was reported today to have strongly advised U.S. combat troops to South Viet Nam.

Three weeks ago, when Kennedy dispatched his military adviser, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, to the Communist-besieged nation, there was wide speculation that Kennedy might send a U.S. force to South Viet Nam. When Taylor returned Friday he had no public word of support for sending troops.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy and Nehru discussed both Laos and South Viet Nam in their first meeting Monday.

Nehru, a leader of the non-aligned nations, scheduled a mid-morning White House meeting with Kennedy today to discuss subjects ranging from Southeast Asia to Berlin to nuclear testing.

Their meeting at Newport, R. I., Monday was the first chance for the two men to take each other's measure. The atmosphere was described as friendly. They flew here together from Kennedy's vacation headquarters.

On his arrival here, Nehru stressed a peaceful approach to the problems of the cold war.

"With us peace is a passion," he told Kennedy in an impromptu statement at Andrews Air Force Base.

The prime minister wished Kennedy "all success in his efforts to maintain peace and freedom in the world."

He also took note of recent U.S. criticism of Indian policies and said on purpose of his visit was to "explain what we have in our own minds."

Relationships between friendly countries, he said, are more basic than "temporary policies and events that happen."

Democratic candidates won all three straw votes for the major political races in the city and salvaged one county ballot during the vote at Kingston High School this morning.

Mayor Edwin F. Radel, seeking reelection on the Democratic ticket, defeated Republican candidate John J. Schwenk by 728 to 506.

Alderman-at-Large Harold Kaye was the victor over Republican candidate Benjamin Schecter by 698-520.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein was the winner over Joseph D. Saccoman by 728 to 506.

10-Mile Flaming Front Is Feared

24 Planes to Bomb Blazes; Evacuees Leaving Area Likened to War Cases

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two disastrous fires threatened early today to join and burn oceanward on a 10-mile front that officials said would threaten a whole new community—fashionable Pacific Palisades.

The major multimillion-dollar blaze—the worst in Southern California history—already had destroyed more than 200 costly homes including those of such film stars as Burt Lancaster, Joe E. Brown and Zsa Zsa Gabor. Ex-Vice President Richard M. Nixon was among those who fled the flames Monday.

Mile From Bel-Air Fire

The larger fire sprawled out of control today like an ugly, flaming crown in the Hollywood hills—Santa Monica Mountains range above swank Bel-Air and Brentwood.

Eating through Topanga Canyon's explosively dry brush during the night, a companion fire that also broke out Monday moved to within slightly more than a mile of the Bel-Air fire.

The Topanga fire had raged through 4,000 acres, the Bel-Air through 3,200. Only Rustic Canyon, which has a few expensive homes, separated the two.

Officials said the fires probably will join, forming a 10-mile flaming front. If they continue burning southward, all of heavily populated Pacific Palisades, near the ocean, would be in danger, the officials said. The two fires already were only three or four miles from that community.

Preparing for Worst

"We are making full preparations for the worst," said County Chief Keith Klingler.

Men and equipment in large numbers moved into the southern end of the Topanga Canyon holocaust.

Pulse-Takers Watch for Symptoms That Could Linger Until '62, '64 Elections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation's political pulse-takers are intently watching the voters of New Jersey and New York City today for any symptoms that could linger until the national elections in 1962 and 1964.

Of particular interest was the governor's race in New Jersey, whose unpredictable voters have stripped back and forth between both major parties for the past decade. Here an Eisenhower Republican, James P. Mitchell, was matched against Democrat Richard J. Hughes who carries the approval of the New Frontier.

New Jersey was narrowly counted for Kennedy in last year's presidential election.

In New York City's mayoral race, much of the attention is focused on the bitter feud within the Democratic party. Republicans—who often provide little caust. Twenty-four bombers, 12 for each fire, were loaded for daylight bombing of the flames with a fire-retarding borate solution.

Minor injuries to 10 firemen in the Bel-Air fire were reported. The Weather Bureau predicted gusty northeast winds, decreasing slowly, in the mountains and below coastal canyons today.

More than 2,000 persons had been evacuated from one of the nation's richest residential areas.

Army Backs President In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Ecuador's army command stood firmly behind President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra Monday night as he duelled for power with leftist Vice President Carlos Arosemena.

Gen. Avxel Zurita, the armed forces commander, issued a communique promising to maintain law and order and backing Velasco Ibarra in the president's severest test since he assumed office 14 months ago.

Tanks Seal Off Solons

Tanks rolled up to the congressional palace and virtually sealed in legislators at odds with the president over economic policies that have led to growing unrest throughout this nation of four million on the northwestern tip of South America.

Army leaders cut communications with the building and allowed no one to enter or leave. Reports filtered out that Congress had appointed a committee to seek a solution to the political crisis. Previously the bulk of the legislators had sided with Arosemena, who is also president of the Senate.

The president charged in a radio address that Arosemena was trying to become a dictator and said he no longer recognized him as vice president.

The president claimed he had the armed forces' full support and said he would use all his powers to smash the demonstrations against his government.

Says Nation in Chaos

Arosemena told demonstrators who marched on the congressional palace that "I will defend the constitution of the republic with all my energy." He charged that Velasco Ibarra, with whom he was once politically aligned, had led the nation into chaos.

An estimated 1,000 demonstrators rioted Monday in Guayaquil, Ecuador's largest city and major port, protesting the government's use of force last week in quelling riots at Cuenca, capital of Azuay Province. Two were killed and more than 25 injured in Cuenca Monday. Seven were killed in Guayaquil—most of them students. Scores were wounded.

The current wave of opposition began after Velasco Ibarra decreed 37 new taxes he claimed were necessary to check inflation and soaring living costs.

Wagner is heavily favored. The weather outlook is cloudy with chance of showers. Voting hours are 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. There are 3,595,913 eligible voters. More than two million are expected to vote.

In New Jersey, most political observers favor Mitchell, who was secretary of labor in Dwight E. Eisenhower's Cabinet. The Democrats see their man Hughes, a former Superior Court judge, making a photo finish.

The office was open to them by a New Jersey law that prohibits a governor from serving three consecutive terms. Gov. Robert B. Meyner, a Democrat, has held office for eight years.

The New Jersey polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. The weather forecast: cloudy and cool with chance of showers. A vote of 2.25 million, out of a registration of 4.5 million, is needed to elect a governor.

Social Security Office Is Closed All Day Friday

George J. Johnson, district manager of the Social Security Administration office at 61 Albany Avenue, Kingston, said the office will be closed all day Friday to observe Veterans' Day which falls on Saturday. The office will be open at 9 a. m. on Monday.

Johnson urges all individuals who will be 65 years of age or older and who have not filed a claim for benefits, to call at the local office in order to discuss their social security status. Johnson states that a person who is still employed may be entitled to some benefits for the year and that he cannot possibly lose anything by filing for social security benefits at age 65. There is a new provision in the Act, which provides for payment of benefits for men at age 62 and under age 65 at a reduced amount.

Booklets explaining the 1961 changes in the Social Security Law are available upon request.

Firemen from Wiltwyck station responded to a call at 10:10 a. m. today from Smith-Parish Roofing Co. Inc., 78 Furnace Street, and on arrival they learned a sprinkler head went off. The part was replaced.

Town Officials Run

In the towns of the county, supervisors and other town officials are being elected.

This year there are independent nominations on the "People's Party," the "Vega" Party, the "Citizens' Party" and the "People's First Party."

Supervisor Joseph P. Turck is running on both the Republican and People's Party tickets for supervisor of the Fourth Ward. Turck, an independent Democrat, is opposed by Michael W. Melnik, Democrat. Louis H. Black, is running for Sixth Ward supervisor on the People's Party ticket as well as on the Republican ticket. Ronald F. Fischer also runs on the People's Party ticket for Sixth Ward alderman as well as on the Republican ticket.

Candidates on the Vega Party ticket are John J. Lucchi, also running on the Democratic ticket for supervisor in the fifth ward, and Frank A. Adams for alderman of the fifth ward, also a Democratic candidate.

Peter F. Simpson is the sixth ward candidate for supervisor and Joseph Tomaszewski for alderman in that ward are on both the Citizen's Party ticket and the Democratic ticket.

Harold J. Kuschner is the People's First Party candidate for alderman in the 11th ward.

One of the local issues which is creating a great amount of interest is the Local Question No. 4, a referendum on establishment of a Community College in Ulster County.

Appearing also on the ballot are seven amendments to the state constitution. No. 1 proposes a new judiciary article for court reorganization; No. 2 would provide more than 20 departments in state government; No. 3 would authorize state liability for $100,000,000 to finance equipment for commuter railroads; No. 4 would provide for development bonds; No. 5 job development bonds; No. 6 would authorize public works bonds and dormitory bonds respectively and No. 7 deals with a forest preserve road in Hamilton County.

Chamber Has 134 Ballots Returned

This is also election time for the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. Nominating ballots for the office of director were mailed to all active members last week and to date 134 ballot envelopes have been returned.

"We may have a record nominating vote this year," Frank Hootnick said that any ballots received after noon Monday, Nov. 13, may not be in time to be counted. He urged all Chamber of Commerce members, who have not done so, to mark the ballot and return it before the end of this week.

The election procedure requires that the names of the 14 members receiving the highest number of nominating votes be placed on the election ballot. The election ballot will be mailed to all active members on or about Dec. 1. The seven nominees receiving the highest number of votes will be declared elected as directors of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce for a term of three years, starting Jan. 1.

Ward Chairmen Named for MDAA Campaign in City

Ward chairmen for the 1961 March on Muscular Dystrophy in Kingston have been announced by Lewis Kirschner, county coordinator for Ulster County Chapter, Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America Inc.

Hugh Greer, Kingston firefighter was recently named city chairman.

Ward chairmen are: Edward Schrowang, first; Julius Kirschner and William Nesel, second; John Dittus and Mrs. Walter Miller, third; John Berardi and Lawrence Woerner, fourth; Doris Rougier, fifth; Corrine Williams and June Van Der Zee, sixth; Martin Kelly, seventh; Richard Hinckley, eighth; Mrs. Joseph Ambrose and Mrs. Peggy Lewis, ninth; John Ray Mayone, 10th; Ernest Rowe, 11th; Frank Argulewicz and Raymond Rappolt, 12th, and Henry Trice, 13th Ward.

Emphasizing the need for volunteers, Kirschner described the door-to-door campaign as the major source of funds which enables the MDAA to continue its comprehensive program of research into the mysterious muscle-wasting disease which has afflicted more than 200,000 Americans. Those interested in volunteering in the Muscular Dystrophy drive should contact either Kirschner or Greer.

In the Saugerties area, John Collins of Route 2, Saugerties has been appointed general chairman; and also requests more volunteers, to thoroughly canvass the Saugerties area on November 16. Collins has two sons, Gary, age 9 and John Jr., 10, afflicted with Muscular Dystrophy.

Twenty-five per cent of the funds raised during the March on Muscular Dystrophy will help the more than 10 local cases in Ulster County by supplying diagnostic needs and physical therapy. The remaining money goes toward research projects at the $5,000,000 MDAA Institute for Muscle Disease in New York City.

The Institute, the only one of its kind in the world, provides facilities for a concerted attack on Muscular Dystrophy and related diseases afflicting millions. Muscular Dystrophy is a neuro-muscular disorder whose common feature is a kind of creeping paralysis that slowly destroys muscle tissue.

The Ulster County March on Muscular Dystrophy gets underway at 7 p. m. in the Kingston and Saugerties area. A telephone campaign is taking place in the Towns of Hurley, Rosendale and Ulster.

3 Women Hurt In Collision of School Bus, Cars

Three women were injured at 3:35 p. m. Monday when the cars in which they were riding were involved in a collision on Broadway near Dederick Street, according to police.

Authorities said a school bus operated by Peter Perry, 43, of 12 Field Court was in collision with a car driven by Mary Ann Rinando, 20, of 2 Muldowney Circle, Poughkeepsie. Her car then struck the rear of a vehicle operated by Mrs. Ella Auchmoody, 39, of 5 Delta Place. Sgt. Thomas Tomshaw said the school bus and the Rinando car were traveling north on Broadway and the Auchmoody car was making a turn at the time of the impact.

Police said passengers in the bus and the operator were not injured.

Mrs. Auchmoody complained of soreness of the neck, back, legs and chest. She said she would see her physician. Miss Rinando was taken to Kingston Hospital for X-ray.

Mrs. Auchmoody's daughter, Mrs. Diane Buckman, 20, of 5 Delta Place, was taken to Benedictine Hospital and admitted. Her injuries were not immediately determined. The hospital described her condition as fair.

Traffic on Broadway was delayed about 20 minutes.

Arosemena Seized

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — A regiment of engineers rebelled against the Ecuadorian government today a short time after leftist Vice President Carlos Arosemena was arrested on orders of President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra.

Arosemena, who appears to have backing of a majority in Congress, was arrested around midnight. Aides with him also were taken into custody and imprisoned in the federal penitentiary.

They offered no resistance when approached on the street by Gonzalo Jacome, director of national security, and informed they were under arrest.

U.S. Mission Fails

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Special U.S. envoy Livingston Merchant flew home today, his mission to get Pakistan and Afghanistan together apparently a failure.

Merchant said he had found no solution to enable resumption of transit trade to and from Afghanistan across Pakistan.

The two Asian neighbors broke diplomatic relations last month. With the border closed, American aid for Afghanistan piled up in Pakistan's sports and the Afghans turned to the Soviet Union as their only feasible trade avenue.

Pacific Palisades

Residents leaving the area with armloads of possessions, leading horses, pets and children, suggested refugees fleeing from war. Wild animals scrambled along Beverly Glen Boulevard. Flames had ravaged their native haunts.

Worst Ever Seen: Nixon

Magnates, movie stars, school children and housewives fled from homes and classrooms to escape the blaze Monday. Fire officials called it the most damaging in Southern California history.

Nixon, whose rented home escaped the flames, said: "I have seen trouble all over the world, but nothing like this."

Some of the movie stars' homes reportedly cost more than $100,000.

The main fire is in rugged, mountainous terrain extending westward to the sea and dividing the San Fernando Valley from Los Angeles and its western suburbs. The sprawling blaze is roughly 10 miles northwest of downtown Los Angeles and three miles northwest of Beverly Hills. Brentwood, Bel-Air and the Hollywood hills are suburban communities.

Ruled Disaster Area

Gov. Edmund G. Brown declared Los Angeles County a disaster area.

The city fire department said it counted more than 200 homes destroyed—many valued at more than $100,000 each. A public information officer for the department said the total "easily could go as high as 500."

The spokesman said the total value of ruined or damaged real estate alone could exceed $5 million—not including priceless art works, lavish furnishings, furs, jewelry and hillside watershed, a vital defense against springtime floods.

1,300 Battle Fire

More than 1,300 men fought the fire, which started Monday morning and raced across Bel-Air and surrounding suburbs, studded with palatial estates, $200-a-day hotels and exclusive golf courses. The blaze swept down dry, sun-baked slopes, overran luxurious homes and quickly consumed 6,000 acres.

The worst previous fire in Southern California burned about 40,000 acres and destroyed 67 homes in nearby Malibu in 1956. Homes damaged or temporarily threatened included those of Cary Crant, Red Skelton, Kim Novak, Maureen O'Hara, Fred MacMurray, Alfred Hitchcock, Ginger Rogers, Marion Grand, Robert Stack, Steve Cochran, Bobby Darin, Greer Garson, Jascha Heifetz, Peggy Lee, Meredith Willson, Max Baer, and Laverne Andrews and Cliff Robertson.

Nixon Ordered to Leave

Former Vice President Nixon was working on his forthcoming book "Six Crises," in his rented Brentwood home when he and research assistant Al Moscow noticed flames a few hundred yards away. Nixon, hose in hand, clambered up the roof and watered the shingles. Firemen ordered him, Moscow and a house man to leave. They took his mapu-script.

They returned later to recover personal effects and rescue Nixon's cocker spaniel, Checkers, who figured prominently in his 1962 vice presidential campaign. The house, leased from producer Walter Lang, was saved. The Nixon family spent the night at a downtown hotel.

Skelton's Home Saved

Flames licked the garage near the entrance of Red Skelton's five-acre, half-million-dollar estate. Firemen pumped water from the comedian's swimming pool and saved the home. Skelton and wife Georgia were en route home from Boston. His daughter Valentina, 13, and the household staff were evacuated.

The $400,000 home of Zsa Zsa Gabor, loaded with paintings, jewelry and furs, was a smoking ruin.

All that was left of Burt Lancaster's hillside home were two smoking chimneys, a water-scaled baseball diamond, a burnt exercise-bicycle and barbell.

Kim Novak, clad in a leopard and flimsy blouse, rushed home from a movie studio, climbed the roof of her Bel-Air home, worth an estimated $200,000, and sprayed a hose about the property, which was saved. The beautiful blonde actress, her face smeared with soot, her blouse soaked, emerged unharmed with her fiancée, director Richard Quine, who ripped his trousers.

Joe E. Brown lamented to newsmen: "Everything went—just as quick as that."

"I can't talk to you right now," said Marion Brand, reached by phone as she scurried about her Japanese-style house atop Mulholland Drive. "I'm kinda busy." His horse was left intact.

Art collector James Vigevano fled from his suite in the Bel-Air Hotel with an auto of 40 paintings, including works of Modigliani, Utrillo and Picasso.

The Bel-Air Hotel evacuated 100 guests—including producer Otto Preminger, playwright Gore Vidal and Broadway musical producer Morton D. Costa.

Nine Homes Lost

A few miles away, in sparsely settled Topanga Canyon and unpopulated Santa Ynez Canyon, a brush fire destroyed nine homes and scorched about 2,000 acres. Wind-whipped flames roared through steep canyons, exploding at times into a dreaded "fire storm," which occurs when flames get so hot they generate their own winds, up to 100 m.p.h. or more, and devour everything in their path.

The brunt of the fire is in a compact complex of mansions and "fast estates"—where the cheapest home costs more than $30,000 and costs spiral up past the half-million dollar mark.

Nkrumah Tries To Prove Visit Of Queen Safe

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — President Kwame Nkrumah staged a royal rehearsal drive through the thronged streets of Accra today in an effort to demonstrate that Queen Elizabeth II will be in no danger from his political opponents.

Two more bombs exploded in Accra Monday night. In London, Prime Minister Macmillan announced his Cabinet would meet Wednesday to decide whether the queen and Prince Philip should go ahead with their visit to Ghana, scheduled to start Thursday.

Opponents of Nkrumah set off bombs in Accra last Saturday, arousing fears in Britain that the royal couple would be endangered by more attacks on Nkrumah during their visit.

Esopus Budget Shows Decreases Totaling $10,122

The public hearing on the proposed budget for the Town of Esopus for 1962 will be held Wednesday 8 p. m. at the Town Hall, Port Ewen.

The amount of money to be raised by taxes for the general fund will be $22,471.68, which is $8,771.66 less than the same figure in the 1961 budget.

The amount of money to be raised for the highway department by taxation will be $87,837.50 or $1,351 less than a year ago. The amount to be raised by taxation for the welfare fund will be $13,300, an increase of $250 over the budget of last year.

The total amount of monies to be raised for the general fund, welfare and health funds, those funds over which the Town Board has direct control, will be $111,819.18. This is the lowest total for these four funds in four years according to Supervisor Mabie. It was also pointed out by Supervisor Mabie that during the same four-year period the town's net bonded indebtedness was reduced by $21,000 and a certiorari tax action of $35,089.03 was completely paid off.

The final amount of the special district funds will not be known definitely until Wednesday night's hearing due to the emergency expenditures that had to be made during the past month for an emergency supply of water for Port Ewen Water District.

The bills covering the emergency will be submitted to the Town Board at their meeting tomorrow night. Special district funds are those raised for the fire districts, street lighting districts, etc. and are not directly controlled as to amount by the Town Board.

Education Units Favor Community College in Area

The executive board of the Ulster County School Boards Association has gone on record as being wholeheartedly behind a community college for Ulster County. According to the association's president, Ben Miller, this statement reflects the view expressed by the membership earlier this year.

"The necessity of a community college becomes more evident with each passing year," Miller said. "School enrollment and the number of high school graduates has been climbing steadily every year. All neighboring community colleges are filled to capacity and are being forced to turn applicants away. These graduates who have the desire and ability to further their education do not have the means to go to any college, but a community college. I wish to state that we, the citizens of this county, must not deny that opportunity. Investing in education on any level brings back to every taxpayer and parent a greater return than any other investment they can make."

"A battleship costing millions becomes obsolete in 15 years or less. An education lasts a lifetime," Miller said.

Fewer than 60 gorillas are exhibited in U. S. zoos, which pay as much as $5,000 for a young animal.

Pakistan Life To Be Topic at Local Study Club

NEW PALTZ — Dr. Elizabeth Lang will be the guest speaker at the Nov. 7 meeting of the Study Club to be held in the Social Room of the Reformed Church basement at 2:30 p. m. Making friends and getting to know people will be the theme of her talk which will be an illustrated talk on An American Family in Pakistan.

Dr. Lang, whose husband is librarian of the State University here, has resided in New Paltz for the past 10 years. They have two children who attend the Campus School.

Dr. Lang spent the past year in foreign exchange, and she says "the warm welcome we received from our Pakistani students at Forman Christian College, from its faculty and from our neighbors there compensated in great measure for life in the chilly climate and a cottage with no central heating during months of freezing temperatures. The climate was difficult, but the people and the art of Pakistan and India were wonderful."

Dr. Lang was born in Canada where her home was Sherbrooke, Providence of Quebec. She received her BA and MA degrees from McGill University and her doctorate from Cornell University, majoring in English. Her thesis subject was "The Art of Stephen Crane" and she has written for publication several articles on poetic drama. Recently she and Mr. Lang collaborated on a history of the State University College at New Paltz. With her husband she has conducted student art tours of Europe and shares his enthusiasm for seeking out beautiful architecture, painting and sculpture.

Mrs. Janet Jeannette, study club president, and program chairman, Mrs. Leon Smith invite the public to attend the meeting.

Mrs. Louis LeFevre will welcome guests and members. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Charles Huntington and her committee, the Mmes. Lewis Ackert, Roland Babb, Vera Atkins, Charles Baker, N. L. Harris, Frank Knievel and Howard Hoffman.

Girl Scout Notes

Doris Bartow has announced that Girl Scout Troop 70 has begun meetings Thursday evenings from 7 to 8:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Laurin Abrams Jr., leader. Fifteen scouts are in this group and they are divided into four patrols. Troop scribe is Susan Redfern.

At their recent meetings the girls have studied ways of preserving food and made apple sauce. They have also studied crafts such as copper and enamel jewelry, polishing metals, refinishing furniture and chalk drawings.

Senior Scouts from Troop 7 took part in an overnight training program at Camp Wendy recently. The program, which included girls from all parts of Ulster County, was in preparation for the Girl Scout Round-up to be held in Vermont next summer. Three girls from the county will be selected to attend, as well as three alternates.

Attending the training session from New Paltz were Barbara Abrams, Linda Demers, Denise Franklin, Kathy Krajcek, Victoria Burkhardt, and Beth Heinz. Mrs. Paul Steiner also attended as staff member.

The last regular meeting of Troop 7 under the leadership of Mrs. Thomas Franklin, was held at the high school. Kathy Jorgensen, assistant leader, who was Hudson Valley representative to the Colorado Round-up, helped the girls in planning for a further training session this month.

Rochester Strike Of Buses Still Is Deadlocked

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Rochester's crippling bus strike was in its seventh day today with negotiations still deadlocked.

About 600 drivers and mechanics at the Rochester Transit Corp., walked off their jobs last Wednesday, leaving this city of 300,000 without public transportation. Car pools and hitchhikers have been commonplace since.

The company Saturday refused arbitration but direct negotiations with a federal mediator sitting in have been going on since Monday with Local 282 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees.

A NEW WAY TO HUNT

Not long ago one of the wire services distributed a picture which showed hunters in South Africa trussing up a live white rhinoceros. The incident was not, as might be supposed, an example of fantastic bravery. Mama rhinoceros, who was to be taken to Kruger national park, had first been shot with a drug-tipped arrow that had rendered her semi-conscious.

A variant of this method has been widely used in the United States by game wardens, conservationists and others. With a specially designed gun, they are able to shoot animals and then release them unharmed after they have been examined or tagged or transported elsewhere.

Now consider the fact that a large number of men are maimed or killed each year in hunting accidents. Some of these accidents involve the unexpected discharge of shotguns or rifles; in some, a man is mistaken for a game animal; in others a hunter misses a shot and the bullet strikes another hunter some distance away.

Now to the connection between the incident of the white rhinoceros in South Africa and hunting accidents in the United States. Is it quite ridiculous to suppose that, if hunters fired drug pellets instead of bullets and shot charges, the toll of death and injury might be greatly reduced?

It sounds outlandish at first blush. Doubtless most hunters, accustomed to weapons that kill the game if fairly hit, would react with a sort of scorn. Yet what is so absurd about knocking out game with a drugged pellet and then giving it the coup de grace? All the elements of sport are still there; only the element of danger to other hunters is diluted. With more and more hunters in the field each year, and a corresponding increase in accidents, the idea seems worth consideration.

BATTLE OF THE TOMB

No other nation can match the ghoully display, in Red Square, of the embalmed bodies of Lenin and Stalin. For decades now, Lenin on display has been viewed by millions. Upon Stalin's death in 1953, room was made for him in the huge mausoleum. But Stalin's place may not be secure.

More and more, it seems, the ghost of Stalin has become the symbol of opposition to the present premier. In recognition of this, Premier Khrushchev found it expedient at the recent party congress to publicly accuse the late leader of mass murder. Now word comes from Moscow that the Lenin-Stalin tomb is "closed for repairs." This may or may not mean that the body of Stalin is being removed.

To do that would be a bold act even for a man with Khrushchev's power. Among other things, this would be a slap in the face to the Red Chinese. It also would be regarded as evidence that in the so-called "cult of personality" Khrushchev was ready to take Stalin's place.

As for the rest of us, this unclean debate over whose body belongs in Red Square is of interest only as it reflects trouble in the communist world. Western tradition would have called long ago for the decent burial of the two and end to the primitive spectacle.

TIME OF ANTICIPATION

November is a month almost as unpredictable as March. November is a fall month, but it is popularly associated with winter in northern areas. Still, though snow is no stranger to November, neither are sunshine and mild temperatures.

The general bleakness of the month is assuaged, too, by anticipation of the holidays. In November the storm windows are on, the hatches battened down, the home made sung for the feast days and festivities ahead. Parents anticipate the return home, for the holidays, of sons and daughters away at college. Business streets and store windows are bedecked, by mid-November, with the garlands and gifts of

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE FALL-OUT

Perhaps the most significant fact about the Fall-Out is that no one can guarantee precisely where it will fall. The huge cloud that is crossing Siberia must settle on parts of Red China as well as on other parts of the world. The Chinese are not only irked but frightened by the butchery of Khrushchev and they are alerting their people to the dangers that face them. This may be a cause for hysterical anti-Sovietism.

The geography of northern Asia needs to be studied very carefully to understand what the Russians are doing. The bombs are being exploded in the vicinity of Novaya Zemlya which lies closest to the Arctic Ocean. Soviet Russia is using the tundra for its explosions to avoid affecting its own more densely populated area.

The cloud of Fall-Out moves southward to Mongolia and therefore must settle on the northern provinces of Red China. The Mongolian cities lie in both Russia and China, although Mongolia lies between Turkestan and Manchuria. Whereas the Russians might say that this area is not densely populated, it is impossible to guarantee that the Fall-Out will not drop down on Manchuria and the northern provinces of China which are very densely settled. Manchuria particularly has absorbed a large population during the past century.

To the west of the cloud lie Sweden and Greenland and it is the Russian objective that some of the Fall-Out will cross the North Pole into American territory. The likelihood is that it will cross Kamchatka to Alaska across Canada with a tail flying over the United States. American weather is made in Siberia and in the entire area affected by the Russian explosions.

Strontium 90 and other radioactive chemicals formed by the explosions of nuclear weapons are chemicals which do not ordinarily exist in nature but which come into existence as a result of these explosions. These chemicals are very damaging to all that lives upon the Earth because they convert both living and inert matter into radioactive material. The chemicals remain in the atmosphere after explosion, slowly moving in the form of a cloud. When the chemicals settle on rain clouds, they come down to Earth and penetrating the soil, they pollute it. The crops that grow in such polluted soil become poisonous and when eaten by animals that consume the crops, poison the animals, so that cows give off radioactive milk and meat which can have permanent devastating effects upon the human beings who consume these commodities.

Genealogists are not yet absolutely sure as to the genealogical effects of Strontium 90 on human beings, but it is believed that if consumed in sufficient quantities, it will so affect the genes that an entirely new race will be procreated. Much of the discussion on this subject is theoretical and cannot be substantiated by evidence. However, distinguished genealogists hold firmly to their theories and laymen must accept their statements until they have better information, as the subject is extremely technical and most of us do not understand it.

This then is what the term Fall-Out means and it is naturally a cause for considerable fear and disturbance. Until the subject has been proved absolutely, no one can say what the effect of the Fall-Out will be and how much radioactive Fall-Out must drop down to do real damage. The amount varies with different reports.

At this moment, it must be said that Soviet Russia achieves no purpose in exploding bombs. These are not scientific experiments. While they do frighten the masses of any country, governments know that we are far ahead of the Russians in atomic developments.

The explosions are acts of terrorism and from that standpoint are a new kind of warfare—warfare by terrorism. The target is not fixed and actually cannot be fixed, which means that whereas bombs may be exploded anywhere, the end result of the explosions is a puzzle to the shooter and to the victim. The final target could well be the shooter who thus commits suicide on a vast scale. In fact, there are unconfirmed reports that this has happened already.

It is for this reason that so many advocate the elimination of all nuclear weapons. Except as a means of producing terror, so far as we now positively know, they serve no purpose.

Drug Used in Angina

Cases Causes Side Effects

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My husband has been taking medicine for the relief of angina for the past year. His pain has been greatly lessened and he rarely gets attacks any more. But he's almost bald and his eyebrows are so thin you can hardly see them. Could this be caused by his medicine?

A—I'm afraid it could. A recently introduced drug of considerable value (triplanol or MERO-29) may cause fading of hair color, loss of hair (alopecia) and marked skin dryness. If your husband has been taking this drug, he may be showing these side effects that should disappear after medication has been discontinued.

Q—I have had diabetes insipidus since 1950 and have been controlling it with daily injections of pitressin tannate in oil. But I'm so sore from the injections I just don't know what to do. I've made many inquiries but no one knows of any substitute for the injections. Have you any suggestions?

A—Since diabetes insipidus, as its name implies, is a harmless disturbance causing nothing more than a tremendous thirst and the minor nuisances that go with the necessity for frequent eliminations of the enormous amounts of ingested fluid, why don't you just sign off on your injections and use your affliction as a fine excuse for keeping your kidneys well flushed?

Q—A neighbor recommended finger surgery to help restore my hearing. Is it worth a trial? I am getting quite deaf.

A—Sorry. But, despite claims for success by some enthusiasts, a recent report in the Archives of Otolaryngology is most discouraging. In this study, done on deaf children (to eliminate the factor by delicate hearing tests (audiograms), "no change in hearing levels was observed" when audiograms were compared before and after treatment. In all fairness, it should be noted that parents of the children disagreed with the results of the tests. They thought the youngsters "actually heard better." Well wishers are apt to be influenced by a desire to note improvement. Hence the evidence presented by the machine is more reliable.

Q—Will a tapeworm thrive or be discouraged by the use of alcohol as a beverage?

A—If the tapeworm happened to be a total abstainer or a member in good standing of Alcoholics Anonymous, I imagine he'd be "discouraged." Otherwise, like many of us he "might take it or leave it," depending on how he happened to feel as the beverage passed by.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

There is a way — even yet — to save South Viet Nam from the Communists.

Laos is the key. Unless the United States takes some extremely daring steps in Laos, South Viet Nam will fall to the Reds and Cambodia with it.

Now that Gen. Maxwell Taylor and his group have completed their study in South Viet Nam, one thing is clear. If the border between Laos and South Viet Nam could be closed, the loyal South Vietnamese, with continued U. S. support, could hold their own against the infiltrating Red invaders from the north.

Sealing that border would cut the life line between the Red guerrilla armies and their North Viet Nam base. If that border remains open, it is clear that South Viet Nam faces Reds by the thousands are coming down by trail from North Viet Nam — through Laos — and on into South Viet Nam. That movement is being stepped up daily.

Once the Reds improve the Laotian trails into roads and start bringing in their men and supplies by truck along these Laotian trail-roads, then South Viet Nam is doomed.

THE PROBLEM: that border cannot be closed from the South Viet Nam side. It is too long, for one thing. If South Viet Nam or the U. S. tried to string troops along that 300-mile mountainous, inaccessible border, it would take staggering numbers of men and present impossible supply problems.

For the Red supply route through Laos — called the Ho Chi-minh trail — is actually hundreds of trails. They cross the border into South Viet Nam at hundreds of points.

In this mountainous, forested inaccessible interior, South Vietnamese or Western armies strung along that border could be caught in a series of disastrous Dien Bien Phu's.

THE ONLY FEASIBLE WAY to close the major supply routes between north and south Viet Nam is by controlling a narrow East-West corridor across the waist of Laos roughly at the 17th parallel.

A careful patrol of some 35-45 miles of this Laotian waist and a spot patrol of another 20 to 30 miles would effectively seal off the underground invasion routes.

Once this Laotian waist is sealed to the Communist invaders, U. S. officials believe the loyal South Vietnamese could hold their own without involving U. S. troops in the fighting.

THERE ARE FOUR WAYS

to close that waist: U. S. troops could occupy and guarantee a neutral zone in Laos through which no "foreign" troops could pass — meaning North Vietnamese, U. S. troops could be logistically supplied from Thailand.

South East Treaty Organization or UN troops could occupy and guarantee such a neutral zone. They also could be supplied through Thailand.

An inspection commission could regularly inspect and guarantee such a neutral zone. Thus far, such neutral inspection teams have been ineffective.

The United States could insist that the new Laotian government guarantee a neutral zone by occupying that waist with Laotian troops the U. S. could depend upon to see that no Red troops got by. How the U. S. could be certain of this, even with solemn guarantees, is not clear.

Since the last two methods seem impractical, this leaves troops — U. N., SEATO, or U. S. — as a possible solution to the problem.

The troop situation would take some doing and some daring.

But note that sealing this Laotian waist would also protect Cambodia and the most vulnerable points of Red entry into Thailand.

There may be no other way out.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Just received a booklet from Mrs. Charles B. Wilcox of 38 North Chestnut Street, New Paltz. It covers the summer resorts, and Hudson River Day Line and other means of transportation for the season of 1911. It has pictures of such popular steamers as Albany, Robert Fulton, Hendrick Hudson, Mary Powell and others.

This booklet contains many maps, and pictures pertaining to the Hudson River we know so well. Did you know that the Hendrick Hudson was licensed to carry 5,500 passengers, the largest license ever issued by any government at that time. These figures include all ocean going vessels.

No doubt many readers remember, when the Hendrick Hudson would dock at our Kingston Point Park, and some 6,000 passengers would come down into the park. It is hard to believe today, yet there was room for them, and many more.

The Robert Fulton had a license to carry 4,000.

There were booklets printed and newspaper items that read like this booklet: "To enjoy the glorious Catskills, one may leave the steamers either at Kingston Point where special trains start from the Day Line wharf for the hundreds of resorts reached by the Ulster and Delaware Railroad."

The younger generation who never knew the Kingston Point Park may think it was only for the enjoyment of Kingstonians, like our parks are today. Kingston Point Park, was of great economic benefit to Kingston and to many sections around here. No doubt, if and when Kingston Point can again be a public park, it may again bring thousands of people to this section who otherwise would not know about us or desire to come here.

In this booklet there is an excellent picture of "Kingston Point Landing," from the river side. This was in or before 1911, and everything is so shipshape. Remember the covered porch on three sides on the two story building, so you could run around the building, and see the Hudson from all sides. There must have been many wonderful photographs taken from that three-sided porch.

It said that since 1823 when the first summer hotel was established, the "Catskill Mountain House," our region has increased continually in a widespread popularity and it was estimated in 1911 that some 300,000 people enjoyed the restful and refreshing pleasure of this great nearby resort. This booklet gives the names of all the high peaks of the Catskills. There is the Over-

Unemployment Figure Seen As Key to Economy Status

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — In athletics the slogan is "Keep your eye on the ball." Right now the key to what is happening in America—the "ball"—is the unemployment figure. Instead of dropping, it seems to remain the same and gives some sign of rising.

Total employment is going up these days—which means newcomers in the wage force are being absorbed to as large an extent as possible—but the percentage of unemployed out of the whole civilian working population, nevertheless, stays about the same. It's around seven per cent and may go up further during the winter. Why is the unemployment problem not being solved? The answer heard on every side is that large as well as small companies in the United States find themselves in a wage-price squeeze that is unprecedented in American history. Sellers wouldn't hesitate to increase their prices if they thought buyers would order their goods. But there's a limit to the heights to which prices can be pushed at certain intervals. Unfortunately, on the other hand, labor unions, in their self-centered approach, keep increasing costs. They do not seem to place any limit on the increases they feel they can extort by means of the threat of strikes or by actually calling strikes that prove very costly to the employers.

As a percentage of gross national product, corporate profits, after taxes, have declined from 5.8 per cent in 1955 to 4.5 per cent in 1960, according to the November monthly bank letter of the First National City Bank of New York, just released.

This is a startling fact, but even more so are the measures being taken by business to restore the profit level. Not only is every form of labor-saving device being utilized—which again produces more unemployment—at least temporarily—but companies that ought to be building new plants and replacing more of their equipment do not have the capital, or are reluctant to do so, in view of the uncertain conditions that lie ahead. The drive is on today to make as many economies as possible so as to earn profits on a basis that will attract investors and lenders of capital.

What American business needs is not a temporary stimulus but long-range encouragement. Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg apparently recognizes that something is wrong, as he comments on the latest unemployment figures.

"It is disturbing that the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate remains at 6.8 per cent. This underscores that we have a stubborn and continuing problem."

But in the Department of Commerce figures is the key to the problem. They show that, out of the approximately 4,000,000 unemployed today, more than 38 per cent have been working in the construction and manufacturing industries. This includes the primary metal industries, fabricated metal products, machinery, electrical equipment, transportation equipment.

The "heavy goods" industries are the ones hardest hit by the recession of last year, but they have also been victims in previous years of a frustration growing out of the government's long neglect of tax reform in the field of depreciation allowances for new plant and equipment.

The government can't lose taxes in the long run on any depreciation plan. But what's important is the period of years designated as the life of each kind of equipment. That's what the whole controversy is about. The same National City Bank letter makes a good point in this connection, as follows:

"It is a pity that the fiscal policy formula for getting the nation out of a mild recession was so concentrated on stimulating government spending and so neglectful of tax reform which, if the experience following the 1954 tax reductions is any guide—could have done more lasting good by reinvigorating business enterprise."

Is the administration going to drift along on the matter of tax reform or take action to stimulate American enterprise by an equitable tax system? The session of Congress which begins in January can do much to restore confidence among businessmen and encourage them to increase purchases of new plants and equipment. Already, however, the estimated figures for capital goods outlays in 1962 are being reduced, and the same frustration seems to have set in.

The only way out now is for tax reforms to be put into effect promptly so that volume of sales can begin to grow without any substantial increases in prices. An era of price stability would bring prosperity so far as corporate profits are concerned, but unless volume goes up, too, the unemployment figures will rise. This was the experience of the "New Deal" in the 1930s. It spent money on many projects but ignored the heavy goods field. Only the outbreak of World War II in 1939 — when, after seven years of the "New Deal," 9,400,000 or seventeen per cent were still unemployed—saved the day for the Democratic Administration. It is to be hoped that neither the threat of war nor war itself—with increased spending for defense—will again furnish the only remedy.

look Mountain, which you can see when riding to Woodstock, it is 3,300 feet high. You can see High Point Mountain from all around the reservoir, and that is 3,100 feet. High Point Mountain from a Dolphin and Stewart map of Ulster County about 1930 gives its height as 2,738. This map gives the height of Overlook Mountain as 3,150. Which is more reliable is not up to me to say, this just proves how information from various sources differs.

Ex-President Rebuffed

Voroshilov Barred From Parade Stand

MOSCOW (AP)—Former President Klementi Y. Voroshilov was rebuffed today when he tried to force himself onto the Lenin Mausoleum reviewing stand for the parade celebrating the 44th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

The 80-year-old marshal, who has been among those taking the salute from atop the tomb every year since the parades began, was denounced at the recent 22nd congress of the Soviet Communist party as a Stalinist.

He apologized for his sins and Premier Khrushchev said he forgave him. But forgiveness did not get him his former place of honor overlooking Red Square.

Dressed in a black overcoat and a black astrakhan hat, Voroshilov moved slowly through the square just before the parade began. An officer in the elaborate blue and gold uniform of the Moscow garrison barred his way near the entrance to the tomb. The marshal argued and gesticulated shrugging his shoulders.

Eventually the old marshal, a former army commander, was allowed to enter the tomb. There he argued again with men in civilian clothes.

After a few minutes he was escorted out by two men in dark blue overcoats and green plush hats, the usual uniform of the secret police.

Voroshilov was taken to a spot near the tomb where a middle-aged woman in a white uniform was selling ice cream. One of the green-hatted men stayed with him as he watched the parade from there.

As soon as Voroshilov was disposed of, Khrushchev and the other members of the Presidium mounted to the top of the tomb to take the salute.

Khrushchev was bare-headed. The others kept their hats on.

The Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, made the keynote speech in which he boasted as usual that the Soviet Union now has weapons "powerful enough to smash any aggressor."

Back to School Night Slated at RV High School

Students of Rondout Valley Central High School have invited their parents to attend the annual "Back to School Night" program Thursday at 7:45 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

The personal invitations were written by the students in their English classes and presented to their parents.

M. Chris Crespi, high school principal, will greet the parents and outline the objectives of the program and the procedure to follow for the evening.

Parents will have the opportunity to follow their child's program in an abbreviated schedule. They will be greeted by class room teachers who will outline the objectives of the course, the academic standards, and what is expected of a student if he hopes to complete the course satisfactorily.

This program has proven to be a successful means for bringing parents and teachers closer together in matters pertaining to a mutual interest—"The education of every child in the Rondout Valley Central School District," Crespi said.

P-TA Urges Oteora Board Speed Classroom Buildup

A resolution urging prompt action by the Oteora Central Schools District Board of Education to produce a plan to relieve the critical classroom shortage in the system has been approved by the membership of the Woodstock P-TA.

The P-TA resolution, announced by President Edgar T. Leaycroft, urged the Board to "immediately initiate action to place before the voters at the earliest possible time a proposal to solve this problem on a long range basis in order to maintain the high educational standards of which the district is justly proud."

The P-TA resolution also stated it viewed with alarm the fact that the current shortage will result in double sessions for a large part or all of the elementary pupils in the system starting in September 1962.

The P-TA action came at the regular monthly meeting on Nov. 2 at the Woodstock school. Harry Rigby Jr. of Kingston addressed the association on the Community College and urged its support of the referendum on Tuesday.

The importance of a community college in our area cannot be overemphasized, Rigby, noted historian, told the group. At present, outside of New Paltz, a College of Education, there are no facilities in Ulster county for higher education. A community college, said Rigby, would enable older people, who for one reason or another were unable to go to college previously, to take up studies to advance themselves in some field of advanced studies.

The executive committee of the P-TA had explored the present status of future plans of the Board prior to submitting the resolution to the membership.

The report pointed out that since the defeat of the school construction bond issue, last spring there has been a change in the school administration. Starting in the summer the collection of facts about the total district has been going ahead on a professional basis. District maps are being prepared which will show the homes of all children in the district as well as bus routes and other important features. These studies can be compared to the report recently given in the Woodstock town hall by Dr. Anthony concerning the town planning efforts to date.

From this study can be evolved long range plans for the growth of the school district to enable orderly growth on an organized basis, the P-TA report said. This work should be pressed forward as rapidly as possible and the school board urged to expedite consideration of the possible solutions offered.

This type of planning takes time which must be added onto the estimated two-year period required between a bond issue approval and the actual use of new classrooms.

For the immediate future, the next year or so, the administration feels that a strongly academic double session program with restored libraries and other vital school services is preferable to continued use of long out-of-date and almost totally inadequate temporary quarters. Such quarters are now in use in Ashokan, West Shokan, Phoenicia and Mt. Tremper. Within the district there are few, if any such quarters available, and none in Woodstock or Hurley where the biggest student population growth has taken place.

The Majority: By Schimmerling

Nothing is more a matter of taste than the liking of works of art, musical compositions and other accomplishments in related cultural fields. Taste, of course, does not reflect the real value of a composition, a painting or a sculpture. Majority rarely passes true judgment. In the development of styles, techniques, fashions Time is the only final judge to declare what is good or not good.

An orchestra leader has a hard time to select the works to be performed. It will not be difficult for him to select good music as long as he draws from the treasure chest of the past. Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, Haydn, Mozart, Schubert, etc. will always find an audience of music lovers. And that's the way it should be. Choosing music from later periods (Strauss, Bruckner, Debussy, etc.) would not mean too great a risk either; but the more we move ahead into the 20th century and the contemporary generation of composers, the more problematic will be the job of the conductor when selecting

Accused of stealing a tame deer from a private game preserve and selling it in Connecticut for $25, three Dutchess County farmhands pleaded guilty recently to petty larceny and were fined a total of $450.

Say Soviets May Close E. Berlin At U.S. Sector

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviets may close off the East Berlin crossing at the American zone any day now and reroute Allied traffic through a new crossing at the British sector, informed sources said today.

The three Western powers have not received intelligence reports about such a closing, the informants added, but they have observed construction material being brought to the vicinity of the checkpoint in East Berlin.

Possibility Discussed
The ambassadorial group which meets at the State Department to draft contingency plans for Allied moves and countermoves in Berlin discussed this possibility last week. The group—consisting of the ambassadors of Britain, France, and Germany with Foy D. Kohler, U. S. assistant secretary of state, presiding—has reached no decision.

Should the Soviets close "Checkpoint Charlie," the Friedrichstrasse crossing where American and Soviet tanks faced each other for about 16 tense hours in October, their chief reason will be to embarrass the United States. But, officials here believe, they also will put the British into an awkward situation.

Each of the three Allied powers has responded differently to the East Germans' demand for identification from Allied personnel entering East Berlin.

The Americans not only refused to comply but sent armed escorts through the gate when ever a U. S. official in civilian clothes drove to East Berlin.

The British showed their identification papers through the windows of their cars.

The French did not comply with the request but made no attempt to force their way into East Berlin.

Opinions Differ
If a new checkpoint is opened in the British sector the British will be in charge. The necessity, therefore, to establish a uniform Western policy on how to react to this or any similar Communist demands is more acute than ever.

There are sharp differences of opinion in the Kennedy administration and in the ambassadorial group over what should be done if the crossing is changed, informants said.

Those who demanded last August that the West should prevent by force if necessary the building of the Berlin wall now say that the West should not tolerate another unilateral action by the Soviets.

Others are willing to accept the attitude of the British, who believe that since the West did not act when the wall was erected, there is nothing to be done now but to accept the changed circumstances—at least until they touch on vital interests.

Must Buy 4 Days Ahead
To Qualify for Dividend

Q—"I bought shares of Sperry Rand on August 10, 1961. Shortly afterward I received an interim report from the company stating that the board had declared a 2 per cent stock dividend payable September 29, 1961 to shareholders of record at the close of business Aug. 10. I asked my broker, for the dividend, but he says I'm not entitled to it. Why not? I bought the shares before the close of business on Aug. 10." D. M.

A—Perhaps I can best answer your question by explaining how record dates are handled.

Under the rules of the various Exchanges where Sperry common is traded, all regular-method stock trades must be settled on or before the fourth succeeding business day. When you bought stock on Aug. 10, you had to pay up by Aug. 16 (Aug. 13 and 14 were not business days); if you had bought on Aug. 4, the settlement date would have been Aug. 10.

To get under the wire as regards dividends, stocks must be bought at least four business days before the record date. Sperry Rand sold ex-dividend—that is, without dividend—on Aug. 7, which was the third business day prior to Aug. 10, the date of record.

ord. To be entitled to the stock dividend, you would have had to buy the shares no later than on Aug. 4.

Q—"Two years ago we bought 100 Rheem Manufacturing at about $23 a share. Since then, the company has eliminated its dividend payments and the stock has fallen in price. Should we take our loss or hold on?" C. M.

A—New management entered Rheem's picture five years ago and has been trying hard to restore the firm's earning power. Some progress is likely this year and the shares should eventually work higher. I advise you to hold at present levels.

Farm Group Asks Formula Changes To Check Losses

Adjustment in the utilization factor of the Order 27 milk pricing to prevent extended financial loss to dairymen as a result of the current New York milk strike has been requested by the New York Farm Bureau.

In a telegram to Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and Dr. Charles Blanford, Milk Market administrator for Order 27, E. S. Foster, executive secretary of the farm organization said, "Milk strike causes serious loss to farmers. Administrative action is needed in adjusting utilization factor to avoid further serious loss, following strike, in pricing fluid milk to farmers. In making this adjustment we trust you will give producer interests full consideration."

According to Foster, even if the strike were settled immediately, there is a delaying action in the mechanics of the pricing formula which would lower prices to dairymen through February.

Correction of the utilization adjustment factor in computing Class I price to a figure where it would have been had there been no strike will not, however, recoup for farmers their direct loss, Foster pointed out.

"It will, however, prevent dairymen from additional penalty because of the pricing formula mechanics," he said.

Urges Increase in Fee For Filing of Mortgage

NEW YORK — Secretary of State Caroline K. Simon said here this weekend fees for filing mortgage statements and trust receipts should be raised to $3. She called the present fee of $1 unrealistic in view of increased costs of operation.

She made her remarks at a hearing on a Uniform Commercial Code being prepared for consideration by the Legislature next year. The hearing, at the City Bar Association Building, 42 W. 44th Street, was co-sponsored by the New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Interstate Cooperation and the Commission on Uniform State Laws.

Mrs. Simon urged the adoption of a uniform code as beneficial both to parties covered by the regulations and to New York State.

She asked that filing of notices of bulk sales and official security agreements be required with the Secretary of State's office, "the State's official filing office."

About 150 Attend Candidate Forum At B'nai B'rith

Nearly 150 attended the pre-election forum sponsored by B'nai B'rith Monday night at Temple Emanuel, Albany Avenue.

B'nai B'rith President David Kline turned the forum over to Robert Ronder, who served as moderator. Each of the county and city candidates attending were permitted to speak for five minutes with one minute allowed for rebuttal.

Speaking were Raymond J. Mino and Hubert Richter, candidates for county judge; Aaron E. Klein and Joseph Saccoman, for city judge; David W. Corwin and George Beck, for district attorney; and Edwin F. Radel and John Schwenk, for mayor.

A question and answer period followed.

Ship Fire Claims Four

Constellation Hit By Second Blaze

WASHINGTON (AP) — Flames flashed through the machinery room of the hard-luck U.S.S. Constellation, taking the lives of four men and injuring nine others as the sleek new aircraft carrier cruised on its trial run.

The Navy said the ship—hit by a major blaze in drydock that killed 50 men last December—suffered only minor damage in Monday's fire. The blaze broke out when fuel oil apparently was accidentally sprayed onto a hot steam line.

The Constellation, newest and largest of the Navy's carriers, was due to arrive in New York tonight after its cruise off the southeastern U.S. coast.

The dead were identified as: Bennie Crews, machinist mate first class, Neptune Beach, Fla.; Louis F. Lynch, fireman, Pascagoula, Miss.; Alfred Steinbuch, ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York State residents vote today in off-year elections that include state and national political issues, church-state controversy and challenges to long-entrenched political organizations.

The weather forecast throughout the state was for temperatures in the 40s and partly cloudy skies.

Polling hours were set from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Nearly 8 million persons in 12,009 voting districts throughout the state were eligible to cast ballots but, in the absence of state and national contests, the turnout was expected to be well below that total.

Gov. Rockefeller planned to vote at the North Tarrytown fire station (9:45 a.m.), then spend the day at his home in Pocantico Hills.

Tonight, he will join Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, Republican candidate for mayor of New York City, to listen to election returns in Lefkowitz's headquarters in the Hotel Commodore.

The contest between Lefkowitz and Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner has attracted national attention as a possible barometer for the 1962 New York State elections and the 1964 presidential elections.

President Kennedy endorsed Wagner and made a brief appearance on his behalf. Rockefeller, who will run for re-election next year and possibly for GOP nomination for president in 1964, has backed Lefkowitz.

Update, Republicans will be watching with concern to see whether they hold their traditional strength in local contests in cities that left the GOP to support Kennedy in the 1960 presidential elections. These include Rochester, Syracuse and Niagara Falls.

The GOP hopes to capture the office of mayor of Buffalo from Democrats. A three-way race includes two Democrats, who are expected to split their party vote.

In Albany, a 27-year-old minister, the Rev. Robert K. Hudnut, is challenging the veteran Erastus Corning II for the mayoralty.

The proposed constitutional amendments on the ballot include one that has Roman Catholic spokesmen on one side and Protestants and Jews on the other.

The proposal would put state credit behind $500 million in bonds of the state Dormitory Authority. This agency constructs buildings at private colleges, which pay for them under leases.

Schools Aided

Auburn Inmates Protest Against Parole Procedures

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP)—No immediate action was planned against prisoners in Auburn State Prison who protested against parole procedures, the state correction commissioner says.

About 100 inmates refused to leave their cells for work Monday.

Warden Robert E. Murphy said there had been no violence and that the striking prisoners continued to eat. Inmates at Green Haven State Prison, in a similar protest recently, went on a hunger strike.

In Albany, Correction Commissioner Paul D. McGinnis said he believed the Auburn action was in sympathy with the Green Haven protest and said he planned no immediate action.

State Police said no additional troops had been sent to the Auburn institution.

Warden Murphy said he thought the prisoners were attempting to publicize their grievances and would give up the strike shortly. He added that he thought many of their ideas were just but thought they were taking the wrong way to protest.

The Green Haven inmates, in addition to parole procedures, also were dissatisfied with medical treatment and food.

The parole issue centers around a Court of Appeals decision over a year ago that upheld the State's parole policies, McGinnis said.

The Court of Appeals overruled a lower-court decision and thus upheld the state policy of applying time off for good behavior only to the prisoner's minimum sentence.

A prisoner is entitled to appear before a parole board at the end of his minimum term, less time off for good behavior.

If the parole board decides against freeing him, however, he must complete the maximum term.

The lower court had held that the time off for good behavior should be subtracted from the maximum term.

West Doubles South Overcall

Mark Hodges, Boise, Idaho, and Hampton Hume of Atlanta, who qualified for the Houston, Texas, tryouts by winning the open pairs at Denver, are businessmen who have been playing bridge for a long time and who played together frequently when Mark was living in Georgia and Tennessee.

Mark, in particular, believes that when an opponent sticks his neck out as much as an inch the proper action is to try to chop it right off. Thus when South overcalled Hampton's opening spade bid with two diamonds, Mark was right there with a double.

Hampton did not like his hand for defense against diamonds, but then he didn't like it much for anything else and he passed. Mark opened the seven of spades and Hamp cashed three spade tricks while Mark discarded the deuce and then the six of clubs. This way of asking for a heart shift is just as effective as any other, so Hamp played ace and

Dutchess Fair Is To Open Earlier It Is Announced

The 1962 Dutchess County Fair in Rhinebeck will open on Tuesday, Aug. 21, at 9 a. m. and run through Sunday night, Aug. 26 — three days earlier than normal, Richard C. Murray, secretary, made known today.

He said the annual Dutchess fixture has had to be moved ahead to avoid conflict with the advanced dates of the New York State Fair which will open in Syracuse next Aug. 28 and run through Labor Day.

"Originally we had set out our 1962 fair for Friday, Aug. 24 through Wednesday, Aug. 29," said Murray, "but this would have meant that our exhibitors wouldn't be able to go to Syracuse for the Aug. 28 opening day there. So we had to move our opening day up to Tuesday. This will mean that our exhibitors will be able to leave Rhinebeck after 10 p. m. on Sunday, Aug. 26, and have all of Aug. 27 to travel to Syracuse and be ready for the state fair opening there on Aug. 28."

Murray said directors of the Dutchess fair soon will start working on a revised schedule of judging, horse shows and other features for the new Tuesday-Sunday fixture. He said it is expected that judging will take place on the first five days, with possibly only one horse show remaining to be judged on Sunday, the final day.

Turkeys Coming To Local Store For Holiday Time

With Thanksgiving figuratively "just around the corner," the huge corrals at the Donald Pepper turkey farm in Saratoga are beginning to "bulge at the seams."

What makes this of interest to Kingston area residents is the fact that the Pepper farm is where the Governor Clinton Market at 772 Broadway obtains its succulent fresh turkeys for the holiday. Edward DeGasperis informed "The Freeman" that the local market, sole distributors in the area for the Pepper turkeys, will take a goodly share of the some 15,000 gobblers being raised for Thanksgiving dinner consumption by the Pepper family.

The Saratogan not only raises the turkeys a painstaking chore in itself, but also conducts a processing plant that turns out the "finished product" all ready for stuffing. He starts early in March to prepare for the demands of Thanksgiving with some 12 helpers on his 600-acre turkey farm which sprawls over both sides of Route 9 in Saratoga. The property contains more than 12 buildings including three pole sheds, seven brooder houses, a feed storage barn, cold storage barn and slaughter house.

The turkeys when ready for slaughter are hung head downward and painlessly electrocuted with an electric knife. After being bled, they are moved to a scalding to loosen the feathers and from there to an automatic picker which can pick as much as 200 pounds per minute. Then the bird goes to a worker who makes the final cleanup by removing pin feathers. The feet and head are removed, and the bird eviscerated. The carcass then is thoroughly scrubbed in running water and placed in an ice bath for the night. The giblets are washed, placed in separate bags and inserted in the turkey's craw. The carcass is weighed, marked and placed in a cryovac bag, the bag is vacuumed and shrunk to cover the bird like a second skin. The turkeys are now ready for immediate shipment as fresh birds, or to be placed in a freezer. Pepper ships his birds all over the east and as far south as Florida.

The Governor Clinton Market is probably his biggest customer although he gets many orders from hotel chains, running more than 1,000 birds.

New Paltz Girl Chosen for Marine Scholarship Grant

Harold G. Dohnken, commandant of Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League announced that the scholarship committee, headed by Attorney Richard W. Griggs, has selected Miss Linda Claire Fria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Fria of New Paltz, for a scholarship grant.

Miss Fria was an honor student at New Paltz High School during her sophomore, junior and senior years and as a senior was elected to the National Honor Society. During her senior year in high school, on the basis of an essay dealing with the peaceful uses of the atom, she was selected as a delegate to the National Youth Conference on the Atom held at Chicago in October of 1960.

In addition to her other high school activities, she was a member of Girls Chorus, Intramurals, Girls Athletic Association, Science Club, and Dramatic Club. Miss Fria is now attending Harper College and hopes to eventually enter the field of medical research specializing in the atomic area.

In making the award Commandant Dohnken stated, "The Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League is extremely pleased to be able to make this scholarship award to Linda Claire Fria, and on behalf of the Ulster Detachment, I wish to thank our countless friends and patrons whose generous support of our Annual Marine Corps League Birthday Ball has made this award possible. It is our policy to make yearly scholarship awards to deserving high school graduates of Ulster County out of the proceeds of our Annual Birthday Ball."

The 15th Annual Marine Corps League Birthday Ball will be held at Sportsman's Park in the Town of Rosendale, November 11. Tickets may be obtained in advance at Schryver's Tavern, Joyce-Shirick, Post 1386, VFW, The Royal Grill, The Shamrock Tavern, Dawkins Grocery or from members of Ulster Detachment.

Some cars have new names... this name will have a new car!

The name is familiar—the Ford Fairlane 500. The car itself is totally new—so new you'll see nothing else like it this year. It is one of Ford's milestone designs—and will be as influential in its way as the first mass-produced car (a Ford Model T), the first popular station wagon (a Ford Wagon), the first four-passenger luxury car (a Ford Thunderbird), the world's most successful compact (a Ford Falcon).

Right between Galaxie and Falcon in size and in price, the 1962 Ford Fairlane 500 is just the right car for just about everybody; you have never been able to buy anything so right before.

Before the new Fairlane 500 this was your choice: big-car room, ride and performance, or compact-car economy and maneuverability. The new Fairlane 500 renders that choice obsolete. Big in room, ride and performance, it is still priced under most compacts. It nurses a nickel as though it never expected to see another. It moves like a rabbit on roller skates.

This is the story of the happiest change in cars in years.

New unitized body...a foot shorter outside...full-size inside

Ford engineers have changed the proportions of the car: a completely new unitized body gives you more room inside with less bulk outside. A foot shorter than previous Fairlanes, the new Fairlane 500 is pleasantly parkable, delightfully driveable, easily garageable. Suddenly the world is full of wide-open spaces that never seemed to exist before.

At the same time the new Fairlane 500 packs into its neat and nifty 197 inches as much passenger room as you had in some of the biggest Fords ever built. And its 115.5-inch wheelbase—substantially longer than any of the so-called super-compacts—means that your passengers ride as well as sit in complete comfort.

Twice-a-year maintenance

Routine service has been reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, twice a year on the rest. You go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications. You don't even have to touch the engine coolant-antifreeze for two years—or 30,000 miles—at a time. Brakes adjust themselves. Special processing to resist rust and corrosion protects the body life of your car toward the prime moment of trade-in—when all that Ford has put into the new Fairlane pays off in your pocket.

All-new economy Eight from world's V-8 leader

The hand that honed the Thunderbird—and sped the Falcon to all-time Economy Run honors—turned to a new problem here, the world's first economy V-8. Made possible by new Ford foundry methods, the new Challenger V-8 is as strong as iron—and a lot lighter than iron's ever been before. As lively as you'd like...thrifter than you'd ever expect a V-8 to be...it's a natural powerplant for America's first eat-your-cake-and-have-it car.

For those who want even greater thrift, there's a new Fairlane Six. Its economy would be gratifying in a smaller car. In a car this size it's a downright delight.

Preview America's newest car now

As part of Preview Run U.S.A., new Fairlane 500's are riding the nation's highways and main streets right now. Watch for them. See what thousands have already seen—and raved about. Take a turn at the wheel—and perhaps do a little raving yourself.

We think you'll agree: this all-new Ford is just right for just about everybody. No matter how many new cars you've looked at, you haven't seen anything like this one. It will be at your Ford Dealer's next week. If you miss it now, be sure to see it then.

Pearson Opposes Canada Having Nuclear Weapons

QUEBEC (AP)—Lester B. Pearson, holder of a Nobel Peace Prize, says Canada should not have nuclear weapons either in its own control or in joint control with the United States.

Pearson, head of Canada's Liberal Party, said he was not opposed to a nuclear deterrent for the West but was against extending the list of nuclear nations.

He said that should the Liberal Party return to power, there was a possibility of permitting a U.S. nuclear base in the dominion.

"If the American government came to us and said it was a matter of the greatest importance to have a base in Canada—if it were absolutely essential—then we would have to consider it," he said Monday night.

He added that he could not make any firm commitments now on what his party's defense policies would be.

The Conservative Party, headed

'62 Woes Will Continue for Poultry Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicted today the poultry industry will still have price and income problems in 1962.

This year has turned out to be a poor one, especially for producers of broilers and turkeys. A big expansion in production has been reflected in a sharp drop in prices that has brought bankruptcy to some producers.

An outlook report said next year's egg production will increase more than the prospective population increase. As a consequence, it said, the per capita supply of eggs will be 2 to 3 eggs larger than this year's average of 323 eggs.

Egg prices to producers are likely to average lower than this year's, the report said.

Dag's Successor Knows He's on Spot

18-Month Tenure Could Help Or Halt Reds' Troika Drive

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—It's not just the eyes watching that's going to make filling Dag Hammarskjöld's job tough for his successor. The very title of the job, and the fight over it, force him into self-consciousness.

Besides, the power of the office has been diminished. So it will not be unexpected if U Thant, the Burmese diplomat who replaces Swedish Hammarskjöld does only a so-so job, and maybe not even so-so.

Only in Acting Post

Hammarskjöld, killed in an African plane crash in September, was secretary-general of the United Nations. U Thant, chosen last Friday to succeed him is simply acting secretary-general.

He will fill out the unexpired part of Hammarskjöld's term which ends in about 18 months, April 1963.

It was Hammarskjöld's willingness to assert responsibility—to the fullest authority of his office, as he saw it—that sometimes angered several Western nations but particularly infuriated the Soviets.

In the Congo, for instance, it was the United Nations under Hammarskjöld's leadership which frustrated Russian efforts to move in on a chaotic predicament. It was no wonder Premier Khrushchev said the Russians didn't trust the Swede.

Khrushchev in his anger went so far as to demand reorganization of the United Nations to provide not one secretary-general but three—one each representing the West, Russia, and the neutrals—and each with a veto over what the others wanted.

Reds Saw Chance

This so-called troika plan could have paralyzed the United Nations in any emergency and truly turned the world organization, which is supposed to preserve peace, into a namby-pamby debating society.

The Russians, with Hammarskjöld dead, saw their chance to push for the troika. The United States was dead against it.

After seven weeks of maneuvering the United States and Russia finally worked out a compromise in kicking U Thant.

He would be only the acting secretary-general but he would seek to reach agreement on decisions with advisers he would pick. As soon as he got the job he named an American and a Russian as his advisers. He may name more.

A Loss, A Victory

In a way Russia lost. It didn't get three secretaries-general. In a sense it won—U Thant is committed to consulting certain advisers although what happens if the Russian or American disagrees with him remains to be seen.

This much is clear already: this very arrangement of commitment on consultation weakens the power of the office. Hammarskjöld had a much freer hand than his successor.

The Russians haven't lost their fight for the troika. They may merely have postponed it until U Thant's term is up and the United Nations has to pick a full secretary-general.

Here, too, the acting secretary-general is on the spot since he knows, or at least can suppose, that the way he handles his job will have some bearing on whether the Russians will insist on a troika in 18 months or settle for less.

On top of all this—with all these handicaps—U Thant knows that every one of the 103 member nations will be watching to see how he compares with Hammarskjöld.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Fred MacMurray switched families again this week.

Last week he was husband of Jane Wyman and father of Tommy Kirk, Deborah Walley and Kevin Corcoran in Walt Disney's "Bon Voyage."

This week he resumed as widower and father of Tim Considine, Don Grady and Stanley Livingston in TV's "My Three Sons."

He devotes his evenings and weekends to his real-life wife, June Haver, and their growing brood.

All this doesn't confuse or even exhaust MacMurray, a well-organized and resourceful man. "But it does cut into my golf time," he admitted.

I visited Fred as he prepared to make the switch from one screen family to another. He was crawling through a replica of the Paris sewers for final scenes of "Bon Voyage." When he emerged, he talked about his three lives, especially the TV one.

"It's working out all right," he remarked, "not exactly as planned, but all right."

MacMurray was offered a dream deal to induce him to undertake "My Three Sons"—fabulous money plus the assurance he would work only three months a year. The schedule was adjusted so he could do all his scenes in one batch.

"It didn't work out exactly as planned," Fred said. "I ended up working four months instead of three."

"We started out shooting all my scenes in each set. First we'd go to the kitchen and do all the kitchen scenes from all the shows, then move into the living room. Well, that got a little tiresome."

"The thing that got me down was changing clothes all the time. So now we shoot my scenes from each show in sequence, going from one room to another. The rest of the cast do their scenes afterward."

Fred is happy with the way the series has gone, as well he should be: It is one of the top-rated shows. He'll be making only one change this season.

"I had only one brush with romance in the first show, when a girl took me to her apartment and I backed off," he said. "The rest of the time I've just been sitting around the house. People might start to wonder about this guy, so I think we'll be having a little romance this year."

To Let Hospital Bids

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Bids will be let within a month on a million-dollar reconstruction project at Willard State Hospital, near Geneva.

Gov. Rockefeller Monday ordered a speed-up in the project as part of his program to help areas of high unemployment. His statement did not indicate when the rehabilitation and modernization of an infirmary building at the hospital originally was scheduled to begin.

Matter of Fact

Strange races of tiny, blind, colorless animals and fish live deep in our great caverns. Because of the cave's limited food supply, fish are stunted—a four-inch fish is exceptionally big. Color and light play no role in a pitch-black cave, so true cave salamanders and fish are colorless and have shrunken, useless eyes. But they often develop extra-sensitive, extra-long antennae to adapt to a place where life is conducted by "feel."

POLLY'S QUIZ

By POLLY CRAMER

'Contemporary' Can Be Both Modern and Traditional

What is contemporary and what is modern in connection with present-day homes and their furnishings? Many of us are unsure when we use either term. So the two words have become somewhat interchangeable. Actually, contemporary can be used to describe things that belong to the same age period. Now it is widely used in speaking of a modern version of a traditional style that has some carryovers from the past in design and feeling. Modern design is clean-cut, simple and often has severe lines. It is new and, therefore, belongs to the present time. Dear Polly: My three roommates and I have just moved into a furnished apartment. It is completely painted grey. In the living room, we have a dark brown sofa, one orange chair, two white leather chairs and blonde tables. We need lamps and drapes. What do you suggest? The dinette is off to the side; the dinette set is turquoise and white. Someone has suggested turquoise lamps for the living room. Would this be correct? S. S. Dear S. S.: Yes, turquoise lamps would be quite correct. But since this is not to be a permanent dwelling, they wouldn't be as practical as brass bases with white shades. Printed curtains would help hold the room colors together. Use a white ground with orange, brown, grey and some turquoise in the design. Cover some pillows and the seats of your dining chairs with this same fabric. Dear Polly: I have a drapery problem. I am redoing the living room. The walls are gardenia white; carpeting is green. Should drapes match wall or carpet? I want them to hang from the ceiling to floor but my friend says they won't look right due to the fact that the top of the window frame is some 16 inches from the ceiling. Two windows on one wall have a mirror between them. Sofa is brown, rocker is green, a reclining chair will be gold or orange leather. What color fabric for a new swivel chair? — Mrs. M. J. Dear Mrs. M. J.: Have your valance start just below the ceiling line and end just below the top of the window frame. Curtains hanging to the floor will make your windows more important. White with green fringe or braid down the side and white valances bordered with trimming would be smart. The two windows, with mirror between could have one valance across windows and mirror for a nice effect. Bold stripes in green, brown and gold would be my choice for the new chair. HER PARENTS DO NOT APPROVE

Q: My son has just become engaged to a young woman in another city. However, her parents do not approve of the marriage and refuse to acknowledge it in any way. I would like to know what my position is in this situation. Would it be proper for me to announce the engagement of my son, and what do you suggest I do about writing to the mother of the bride? Would the conventions be dispensed with in this situation? A: You can't very well write to the bride's parents if they have not accepted your son. You will just have to wait and hope that when the father and mother of the girl know him better, that they will approve. Under the circumstances, the best thing would be for your son and his fiancée to tell their best friends of their engagement and have the news get around in that way.

A Friend Opens a Dress Shop Q: A friend of mine will be opening a dress shop of her own soon and I would like to send her a message of good wishes. Will you please suggest an appropriate message for this occasion? A: The nicest thing you could do would be to go to her opening and if you see something you'd like to have, buy it — if you can't afford it, if you can't do this, send her some flowers with a message, such as "With every wish for your success." Or if you are not well to do, send her this message on a card.

Thanking Friends Who Helped at Wedding

Q: How does one properly express appreciation to those friends who serve at the punch bowl and take charge of the guest book at a wedding reception? Should they, like the attendants, be presented with a gift, or is a thank-you note sufficient? A: Nothing further is expected than a warmly said "thank you" to them when they take their leave.

Hasbrouck Family Reunion

Members of the Hasbrouck family came together at New Paltz on Saturday, Oct. 7, for their fifth annual reunion. The Family Association began in the autumn of 1957 when about 100 members of the family met to decide what could be done to preserve the homestead of the Abraham Hasbrouck branch of the family.

Since 1957, a list of over 1200 descendants of Abraham and Jean Hasbrouck has been compiled. All known descendants were contacted and kept informed of progress made by their elected committee. The members of the family raised a sum of $21,000 to purchase their homestead and have been adding to an endowment to care for the house in future years.

At the present time there are over 240 pledge and annual members of the association, which is a part of the Huguenot Historical Society of New Paltz. The members of the association have as a common bond, the preservation of the Abraham Hasbrouck House, the accumulation of family records, items of historical value and a firm conviction that Huguenot Street, New Paltz, is a worthy cause for any and all efforts to keep it in its natural setting. The Hasbrouck Family has been aided by some good friends who gave to the initial fund. The family has been most fortunate in obtaining support from people all over the United States. Many members have never been to New Paltz, but feel the need presented is worthy of their interest. In August of 1962, plans are being made to hold a family reunion on the West coast, probably in San Francisco. More than 300 members of the family are now located in California and have given wonderful support to the committee. Raymond Dey of the Dey Mansion at Wayne, N. J., was presented to the members by Kenneth E. Hasbrouck, president of the Hasbrouck Family Association. Mr. Dey spoke on the subject of preservation.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—That infrequent but welcome visitor to television, Danny Kaye, made his annual house call Monday night via CBS. As usual, one's reaction to his dancing, singing and foreign language double-talk was, "Gee, what a talented fellow."

Danny, however, seemed in a rather subdued and sentimental mood. His best moments came when he was sitting quietly on a stool, half singing, half talking sad songs about youth and age. One song would have been a lot more effective if it hadn't been used all last season as the musical background for a camera commercial.

Least amusing moments came in the hour show's full-dress sketch, a long and extremely unfunny sequence about hypnosis. Wittiest number was a Kaye-less dance by the chorus to sounds, including locomotives and typewriters.

As if television didn't have enough troubles with current criticism of the quality of its programming, now comes word that the Federal Trade Commission will start looking closely at the content of its commercials.

"Broadcasting," a trade magazine, reports that a prime FTC interest will be the commercials stating that "four out of five doctors recommend" and "nine out of 10" movie stars. They will be asked to prove it.

Back in the nation's living rooms and bedrooms, it is often the quantity rather than the quality of the commercials which is annoying. The other night this reporter counted five commercials in a row during a station-break period on "The Jack Paar Show," some network and some local.

Recommended tonight: "Somebody's Waiting," NBC, 9-10 (EST) —Mickey Rooney in a serious dramatic program on "The Dick Powell Show"; "Moment of Decision," ABC, 10-11—Fred Astaire playing an escape artist in a non-dancing drama.

Niagara Council Opposes Further Water Diversion

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP)—The City Council has called for inspection of the water level of the Niagara River by officials of the International Joint Commission on Boundary Waters.

The council also opposed any further diversion of water for power-production.

The flow of water over the falls is cut from 100,000 to 50,000 cubic feet a second from Nov. 1 to April 1 by the diversions.

As a result, rock formations on the river bed have been showing in the upper rapids since Nov. 1. Mayor Franklin J. Miller said Monday night two heavy channels of water were going over the falls, apparently as a result of the rock formations extending above the surface of the water.

This would speed the erosion process that a remedial control dam three miles above the falls was designed to combat, he said.

85 Districts Join State Educators In System Study

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Representatives of 85 school districts and State Education Department officials are planning intensive studies and evaluations of the school systems.

The districts are the first outside New York City to participate in the state's new cooperative review service, a voluntary program.

Dr. Walter S. Crewson Jr., associate commissioner of education, distributed guides for use in the self-evaluation at the meeting Monday.

Each district will report its findings. Then a team from the department will make an evaluation, using the same guides. The two reports will be compared in judging how good a job each system is doing.

New York City began its self-evaluation in August. The state team is expected to begin its audit in January.

Crewson said the teams would study the school system as a whole. In the past, specialists made separate checks of individual departments.

Robustelli to Speak At SHS Grid Banquet

Andy Robustelli, defensive end for the New York Giants and one of the all-time great pro players, is scheduled to be the guest speaker at the annual banquet honoring the Saugerties High football team. The event will take place, Wednesday, Nov. 15, 7 p. m. at the Flamingo Restaurant.

The dinner, sponsored by the Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be featured by the presentation of awards to the team's most valuable player, the best back and outstanding line-man. Last year's winners were Russell Talmadge, who received awards for being the most valuable player and the best back, and Al Giannotti, voted the top linesman.

Members of the team and the coaching staff will receive miniature footballs in the form of lapel pins.

In 11th Season
Robustelli is now playing his 11th season in the National Football League. A star at Arnold College, now merged with the University of Bridgeport, he was drafted as the 19th pick of the Los Angeles Rams in 1951. Robustelli played with two Ram championship elevens on the West Coast.

He was traded to the Giants for a future draft choice and provided the Giants with a tremendous life in their drive to the pro championship that season.

An annual selection as All-Pro defensive end, Robustelli is regarded as the smartest defensive end in the business. He's the acknowledged field leader of the New York defensive team that has been largely responsible for three divisional titles and a world crown in the past five years. He's a great favorite with Yankee Stadium fans.

While at Arnold, Robustelli was named to Little All-American teams three straight years and was an All New England selection in 1949 and 1950. He also won three letters in baseball at Arnold.

Married and the father of seven children, Robustelli owns a sporting goods store in Stamford, Conn. He's very popular as an after-dinner speaker.

Tickets for the event are available on a first come, first served basis. They may be purchased from Ben Rinaldi, Harry Clawson, Bob Schnell, Don Martini, Eddie's Delicatessen and Flamingo Restaurant.

SHS at Beacon In Big Bid For Perfect Season

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Several key contests, highlighted by the clash at Dietz Stadium between powerful Middletown High and Kingston, are on the schoolboy football schedule this week, the last one of the season. After Saturday, only the traditional clashes on Thanksgiving Day remain on the schedule.

Saugerties High will attempt to nail down the DCSL title and post a perfect season with a game at Beacon against the dangerous Bulldogs.

In other action, Poughkeepsie plays at Newburgh, Rondout Valley at Cornwall, Onteora at Liberty, Highland at Cardinal Farley and Marlboro at Pine Bush.

Middletown will come into Dietz Stadium with a six game winning streak this season. The Midies added Union-Endicott of Binghamton to their list, 21-0, Saturday night at the upstate school. They have scored a total of 199 points in six games and have been reached for only 14 markers, touchdowns by Newburgh and A. B. Davis.

Kingston was idle last week and Coach Bill Burke has been drilling the club hard after a near fatal trip to Poughkeepsie. The Pioneers lost, 26-24, but only after gaining a three touchdown advantage over the KHS players.

Doubtful Starter

The Maroon mentor reports that the regular performers, with the exception of end Paul Natale will be ready for the Midies. Natale is a very doubtful participant. He's still recovering from a broken finger.

Saugerties, which has improved steadily each week, reached a peak in swamping Roosevelt, 43-0, on Saturday. Coach Fred Seither could have run up the score but he pulled his regulars out of the game after three quarters.

In a Stump

Beacon started like a championship club, winning four straight games. However, the Bulldogs have bowed to Roosevelt, Newburgh and Poughkeepsie in successive outings. They've scored only eight points in those games and with Richie Lundsford and Bert Exum in the backfield, you can say that the club is overdue.

The Sawyers, who haven't lost since the last game of the 1959 season, will be aiming for their 15th straight success. An opening tie with Red Hook last season is the only blot on the two year record.

Poughkeepsie, a winner over Beacon on Sam J. Kalloch day, will have its hands full with Newburgh. The Goldbacks are 3-3 to date but they have played a tougher schedule.

Rondout Valley is meeting the Orange County league champions, Cornwall punished Onteora, 59-0, earlier in the season. The Indian close a mediocre season at Liberty and will be underdogs to the Sullivan County club, which has bowed only to New Paltz and Highland, two solid clubs.

Highland hopes to close with a win against the pesky Cardinal Farley Cadets and Marlboro will attempt to do the same at Pine Bush, a very weak club.

New Paltz, which captured the UCAL title with ease, finished its season with a mark of six victories and a tie in seven outings. The Huguenots haven't lost in three years, though they have played four tie games.

Wallkill, Arlington, Roosevelt, Wappingers Falls also closed their seasons on Saturday.

FRACTURED INTERFERENCE

'Pat and Mike' Are Leading Alabama to Unbeaten Season

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama's Crimson Tide, back among the elite of college football after a decade of mediocrity, have spelled success this year with a pair of Qs, and a couple of blazes named Pat and Mike.

The Qs stand for "quarterback" and "quickness," the hallmark of its rapid-fire offense and a rock-ribbed defense. The Pat is also the quarterback, Pat Trammell.

Mike? He is a quick-driving fullback by the name of Mike Fracchia, who proves a perfect foil to the speed, deception and passing precision of his partner, Trammell.

This combination has led Coach Bear Bryant's team to a 7-0 record, and has helped it to be ranked No. 2 in The Associated Press' latest poll after whumping Mississippi State last Saturday, 24-0.

Fifth Nationally

All elements have blended precisely. Trammell is ranked fifth nationally in total offense with 956 yards running and passing, and 11th in passing with 730 yards in completing 54 of 93 attempts.

Alabama is second nationally in total defense, allowing only 911 yards in seven games for a 130.1 average, and second in rushing defense with a miserly 55.1 per game average. It has allowed only 3.1 points per game, lowest in the nation.

Trammell has passed for five touchdowns, and scored eight. Fracchia has tallied four times and been the hatchet man on key yardage situations.

Both will be ready this Saturday when the Tide plays Richmond of the Southern Conference, causing the Spiders Coach Ed Merrick to crack, "I hope my boys won't be overconfident."

Richmond may be without half-back Earl Stoudt, its All Conference halfback and leading ground gainer, who injured a knee in last week's 11-0 victory over Virginia Tech.

Texas, the No. 1 team, will have to face Baylor without full-back Ray Poage, out for the second straight week. Third-ranked Ohio State, playing Indiana, probably will be without quarterback

Elli Mrukowski, who suffered a gashed finger in the Buckeyes victory over Iowa.

Gross Is Finished

Penn State lost guard Bob Hart for the year because of a recurring ankle injury that will require surgery. Jerry Gross, the University of Detroit's quarterback who led the nation in total offense part of this season, was operated on Monday for a fracture of the right leg he suffered last week against Army. He is finished for 1961.

Notre Dame is expected to have guard Nick Buonoconte and end Jim Kelly back for this week's game at Pitt, when the Irish try to break a three-game losing string. Notre Dame full-back Mike Lind may be out another week with a pulled back muscle.

Baylor quarterback Bobby Ply was listed as doubtful for the Texas game after suffering a knee injury against Texas Christian.

Frick Proposes That Spitball Become Legal

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Beleaguered big league baseball pitchers, stung by a record 2,730 home runs last season, have a strong ally in Commissioner Ford Frick.

"I hope they bring 'back the spitball,'" Frick said today. "The rule changes the past few years have favored the batter. Something has to be done to give the game more balance."

According to Frick, a proposal to legalize the spitball was submitted to the major league rules committee last month. The group is expected to consider it during the majors' annual meetings early in December in Tampa, Fla. Jim Gallagher, veteran executive most recently with Philadelphia, is the committee chairman.

"A similar proposal was submitted to the committee a few years ago but was turned down," Frick recalled. "This time I think there's even more need for the spitball. The fans will eventually get tired of seeing all those home runs. The spitball would help bring back the stolen base, the hit-and-run and the sacrifice and would give the fans something new."

Frick pointed out Joe Cronin, American League president, and Frank Shaughnessy, former president of the International League, also are in favor of the spitball's return.

The spitball, outlawed in the early 1920s, moves up to the plate like a knuckler, only faster, Frick said.

Wilt Pacing NBA in Scoring With 48.8 Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — As usual, towering Wilt Chamberlain is leading the National Basketball Association in scoring, with a 48.8 average, and in rebounding.

The defending champion Boston Celtics don't have a player among the top 10 scorers listed in the weekly league statistics released today, nor do they have an individual leader in any department.

But with six players averaging in double figures, the Celtics have won all four outings, lead the Eastern Division standings and have an average margin of victory of 24.8 points.

Chamberlain, the giant Philadelphia center, was held to a season low of 28 points by Boston's Bill Russell last week, but boosted his scoring total to 342 points.

Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor, his closest challenger, trails by 35 points. He has 307 for a 34.1 average.

Rookie Walt Bellamy of the new Chicago Packers leads in field goal accuracy, hitting .530 of his shots. Clyde Lovellette of St. Louis is next at .529.

Philadelphia's Paul Arizin leads in free throw accuracy, .927, followed by Cliff Hagan of St. Louis, .892. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati leads the playmakers with 91 assists in seven games, followed by Richie Guerin of New York with 71.

Chamberlain has 255 rebounds in seven games, a 29.2 average.

Davis Gains Yardage But Foes Pile It On

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Ernie Davis, star Syracuse halfback, is taking an "awful pounding" because opponents are piling on, his coach charges.

Davis, despite the battering, has gained 560 yards in 108 carries and ranks eighth in the nation in rushing.

He holds the team rushing and scoring records and has a chance to break the Orange one-game rushing and scoring records which Jim Brown, now a star in the pro ranks, set against Colgate in his Albany Academy days.

Ironically, after carrying the load most of the season when Syracuse was beset by injuries, Davis goes against Colgate Saturday with plenty of backfield help. Against Colgate, Davis has averaged better than 11 yards per carry. The Red Raiders will go into the final meeting of a series that began in 1891 with a 4-2 record against Ivy League teams and smaller Eastern colleges.

Ben Schwartzwalder, Syracuse coach, said at a luncheon in New York Monday: "I don't mind if they hit him when he is standing up, but when he is on the ground that is something else."

"Davis is the target, probably more than Brown, because he is our football team."

"It is just murder the way they get away with piling on. When officials say 'your team is doing it too' I tell them if we are, give us the penalty treatment."

Rated With Brown

Schwartzwalder rates Davis on the same level as Brown. "Ernie might be a little cuter," he said, "maybe Jimmy had a little more power. I would say their speed is reasonably comparable."

"Brown was practically indestructible. Ernie has taken an awful pounding, starting with Oregon State in the opener."

Since then, the coach said, Davis has worn heavy linemen's pads.

"He's the best back in the country. His game against Pitt (won by Syracuse 28-9) was as fine a game as he has played. Not since 1959 when we had a pretty fair team (national champions) has a game been so satisfying to the coaching staff as the Pitt game," Schwartzwalder told newsmen.

"Now that we have some of our crutches back to take some of the heat off Davis, he should show what he can do," the coach said.

Bill Schoonover, who was the starting fullback, Bob Lebl, second-string quarterback, and end Dick Bowman, have returned to action. The were among the six Syracuse players who at one time were sidelined by broken hands.

Davis, meanwhile, was named to the Major College All-East football team for the third week and Syracuse returned to the top in the Lambert Trophy poll. The trophy is awarded to the best Eastern football team.

Cited by ECAC

The Eastern College Athletic Conference, which picks the All-East team, cited Davis for gaining 119 yards on 22 carries against Pitt and scoring two touchdowns.

The performance gave Davis a career total of 194 points. Brown's 187 and 214 yards rushing to Brown's 2,024.

Brown had scored 25 touchdowns during his three years. Davis has 31, another school record, with three games to play.

The Davis-led Syracuse team is being mentioned for a post-season bowl appearance. The Gator Bowl football selection committee, which seeks to match a Southeastern Conference power with a strong team from the East or Southwest, was the latest to announce that Syracuse was under consideration.

A Syracuse spokesman said the school's present objective was to continue winning football games. Syracuse has appeared in the Orange and Cotton bowls after previous seasons but passed up several invitations last year.
